In Memorium

Richard was a member of homeroom 209; however, he spent little time there since he was a library aid.

During the 1967-1968 school year, Richard Bair was the historian of Miss Rathje's Library Club.

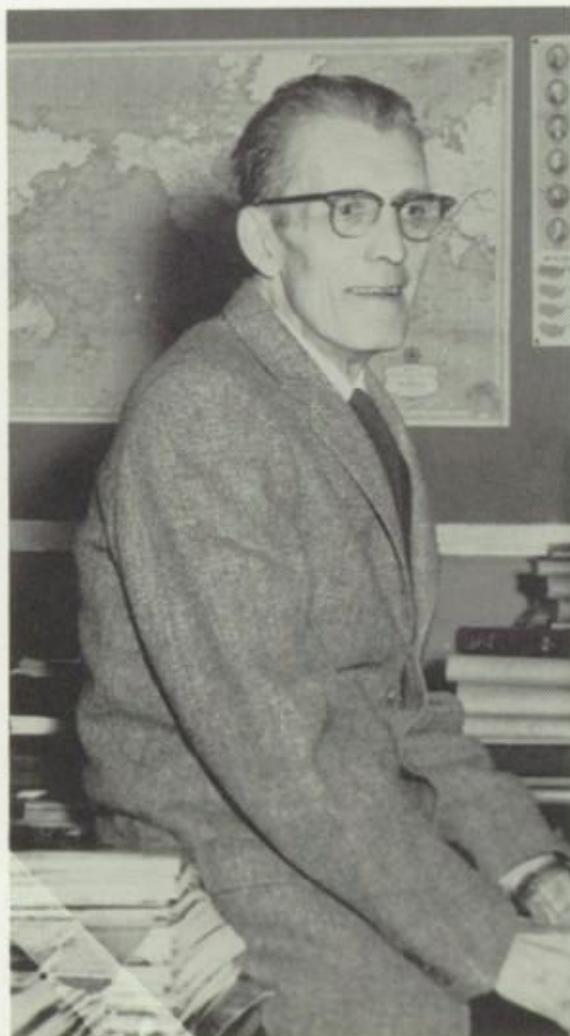

Richard C. Bair

GALATIANS 6:9--"And let us not be weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap." Because Richard Bair lived up to this verse, the Library Club underlined these words in the white Bible they purchased for his family. As the club's historian, Richard worked in the library after school and participated in all the club's activities. Completing 72 hours of service for each award, Richard received four library pins in three years. Richard lived with his parents and his younger brother Leon on Main Street in Reamstown. Although he wasn't old enough to receive the fireman's badge, the Reamstown Fire Company awarded it to him, because he had worked so hard to complete the requirements. At the age of sixteen, Richard died in the Ephrata Hospital after a period of severe illness.

Chester B. Sweigart dedicated thirty-one years of his life to education. During the past nine years at Cocalico, he inspired and enriched the lives of students, staff, and friends. As a gracious leader and wise counselor, the distinguished English teacher served as Newspaper advisor and dedicated himself to youth and their interests. Mr. Sweigart's knowledge of music, drama, and the Japanese language added a fascinating touch to the daily routine of his students. Because of his popularity, the class of 1965 dedicated the KO-KA-LE-KO to Mr. Sweigart.

His honest attempt to educate the more sensitive part of the person has awakened us to an important part of life which is often overlooked in American education. Having had Chester Sweigart as a teacher has made us all a little prouder in values.

Mr. Chester Sweigart

Mr. Sweigart, the senior member of the English department, confers with fellow teachers, Mrs. Boggs and Mr. Brensinger.

Mr. Sweigart was a teacher in the Language Arts department in the 1966-67 school year along with Mr. Martzall and Mr. Peters.

"A man has achieved success if he has lived well, laughed often, and loved much; if he has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; if he has filled his niche and accomplished his task; if he has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul; if he has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; if he has always given the best he had." Rev. Minnich's life was an inspiration to those of us who knew him; his memory will be a benediction.

Rev. Minnich consults with Mr. Behrendt.

Reverend Harold Minnich

Rev. Minnich served on the '67-'68 school board.

Ruby Pannebecker is congratulated by Rev. Minnich.

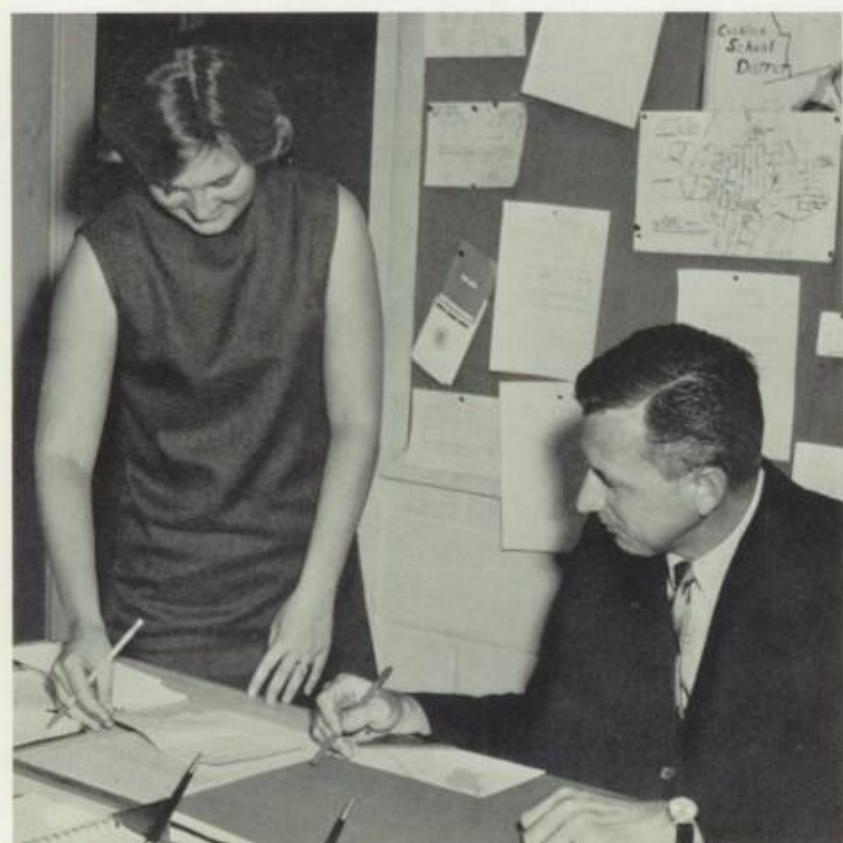

Rev. H. Minnich, Rev. M. Smith and Rev. D. Hauser spoke during Baccalaureate at the 1966 Graduation.

With forty-four Varsity players and enough boys to field a Junior Varsity team, this year's football squad has the largest membership in recent years. The players endured exhausting practices during summer vacation and after school, and with the help of his assistants, Mr. Birchill, Mr. Hall, Mr. Rabuck, Mr. Mentzer, and Mr. Campbell, Head Coach Gene Duck built this year's team around five returning starters. Those faithful Eagle fans who loyally supported our team are to be commended. Even though inexperience was evident to the fans throughout the season, and the supporters suffered many heartbreaking moments, they could never feel as badly about each loss as the boys themselves did.

Cocalico's Varsity hockey team closed the 1968 season with a record of four wins and three loses. With their victories, the girls climbed from seventh place last year to third place during the 1968-69 season. The girls attributed their successes to increased team spirit, hard work, cooperation, and respect for each other. By attending Millersville's hockey camp during the summer, the girls improved their stick work and compared themselves to the other hockey players from the county who participated in the camp. Assisted by Miss Kautz, Mrs. Campbell divided the girls into three teams; Varsity coached by Mrs. Campbell, Junior Varsity coached by Miss Kautz, and Freshmen coached by Miss Schwebel, a student teacher who voluntarily assisted the hockey team.

Under the leadership of President Jay Althouse, student council has successfully accomplished many new projects during the school year in addition to its ordinary schedule of events--Homecoming Day and Dance, Parents' Day for football, basketball, and wrestling, Valentine Dance, Color Day, Dress-Up Day, Election Assembly, and the Student-Faculty Basketball Game. For the first time, the council sponsored a school festival, which included a chicken barbecue, games of skill, food concessions, and a Jr.-Sr. High Band Concert. The proceeds were contributed to establish two Foreign Exchange Student Programs during the same year--one involving a two-way exchange with a Latin American country for three months, and the other involving the reception of a European student for one year. This year, Jay converted the Faculty Tea to a student-teacher panel, which discussed any problems or new ideas concerning the student body. Jay was an excellent leader who demonstrated his eagerness to learn and co-operate with his teachers in order to take full advantage of his educational years. As a dependable president, Jay led student council through a successful 68-69 school year.

THE MOUSE THAT ROARED concerned the efforts of Duchess Gloriana and the political leaders, David Benter and Count Mountjoy to make their country self-sustaining. They decide the only expedient is to invade New York, suffer defeat and wait for financial aid from the Americans. To insure their loss, the devious duo convince Gloriana to send Tully Bascom and an army of bowmen to New York.

Tully and his six men arrive in New York, capture an army general, his daughters and a physicist who developed the all-powerful Q bomb, and return victoriously to Grand Fenwick. Their success forces Grand Fenwick to rehabilitate the U. S. The wily Professor Kokintz realizes the potentiality of his invention as a peace weapon. The play reaches its denouement when the professor falsely concedes that he has failed to disarm the bomb and Gloriana announces her marriage to Tully Bascom.

After months of waiting, the sophomore class received their jackets on November 6th. Along with Mrs. Ostapuk and Mr. Mooney, Mr. Pfeiffer and Mr. Duck helped to distribute the jackets. The sophomores tried them on and examined them very carefully. Some students wore their jackets to classes for the rest of the day.

C. Landis

D. Martin

With the help of their new class advisor, Mr. Mentzer, the sophomores chose a yellow tipped rose for their class flower. The students also selected their class motto, "We'll find a way or make one."

Advised by Mr. Kokat and assisted by Randy Palsgrove, the club feels no need for officers nor a formal meeting so they devote their entire club period for working on their projects. The girls make wooden dishes, jewelry, boxed centerpieces, and pins. The great response of the first year club required Mr. Kokat to divide the club into two groups which meet on both chapter and school club days.

S. White, B. Ansel, M. Gensemer, G. Glass, B. Wagner, and L. Youndt.

With the aid of her skill and experience, Mrs. Doherty teaches the CHEF CLUB the ancient art of cooking. The club not only prepares tantalizing deserts, but they also learn the exact timing required for serving a complete meal. The club is in the capable hands of Richard Good, president. He is assisted by Bruce Wagner, vice-president, and Larry Youndt, treasurer. A trip to the butcher shop on November 13 highlighted the year.

Cocalico's F.H.A. is an active club consisting of thirteen members. Each year the club attends the F.H.A. Round Up and visits the Harrisburg Farm Show. To raise money for two of the girls to attend the F.H.A. convention in Philadelphia, the club sells cookbooks and homemade fudge. The Future Homemakers also bake cookies for West's Nursing Home.

"Mary Mary" concerns the marital misadventures of the about-to-be-rewed Bob McKellaway and his former spouse Mary. When Bob's lawyer Oscar Nelson informs Bob that Mary is soon to pay him a visit about some tax matters, Bob refuses to see Mary. Upon Oscar's insistence that seeing Mary will not only help solve Bob's tax quandry but would also settle the divorce, Bob agrees to see Mary; however, he firmly refuses to let Tiffany, his fiance, meet Mary. With Tiffany safely out of the room, Bob encounters Dirk Winston, a Navy buddy who has become a romantic movie idol. Mary finally arrives and things seem to go as badly as Bob imagined them--nostalgic memories of formerly happy times, sharp retorts, and an impossibly high tax bill to pay. When Mary is introduced to Dirk, Bob attempts to use the situation to his advantage: he'll publish a book Dirk has written if Dirk will marry Mary.

With Bob and Tiffany supposedly safe in Vermont, Mary decides that she will stay in Bob's apartment. A bit unsure of herself, Mary attempts to make small conversation with Dirk. However, the alcohol she has consumed overcomes her, and Mary soon finds herself in the arms of the "lounge lizard." As Dirk takes Mary into his arms, Bob walks into the apartment. Following Dirk's departure and a tiff between the McKellaways, Mary retires. Not one to be beaten by sheer animal magnetism, Bob calls Dirk and arranges a meeting at which the irate husband informs the suitor that the deal is off. Next, Bob phones Mary from the living room and apologizes and Mary sees through Bob's scheme. Although she tries to curb her tongue, she soon finds herself sitting alone while a coatless Bob roams the streets of New York in the middle of the night.

The next morning Mary is awakened by the insistent ringing of the doorbell, and rudely brought back to reality by Tiffany's babbling. Mary sizes up Tiffany and leads her into a trap which will show Bob what a mistake he is making in marrying Tiffany. The play reaches its climax when Bob locks Mary in the closet and throws the key into the snow several stories below. Dirk leaves without Mary and Tiffany realizes Bob still loves his ex-wife. With the apartment empty, Mary uses the keys she had in her purse and confronts Bob with the fact that she still loves him. The sleepy Bob falls to the sofa, professing his love for Mary.

"What makes you all so certain that I'm just a movie star on the make and that Mary is another pick-up?"

T. Kalbach and S. Johnson make up M. Arcati and Ruth Condomine.

The Saturday night Bradmans D. Weaver and C. Sweigart.

Frank Butterfield--painter extraordinaire.

"Ruth, I want to explain to you clearly and without emotion beyond any shadow of doubt, the ghost or shade or whatever you like to call it of my first wife Elvira is in this room." --Charles

Charles Condomine, J. Althouse; Ruth Condomine, J. Fichthorn; Elvira, L. Sweigart; Madame Arcati, R. Showalter; Edith, G. Sweigart; Mrs. Bradman, J. Unruh; Dr. Bradman, J. Weaver.

P. Care--Saturday evening's Elvira.

"You should begin every day by asking everyone how they are. It oils the wheels."--Charles.

Jean Schweitzer and Jean McCoy, general maintenance and promptresses.

"Fingers should be touching, and empty your minds. Concentrate on a space or a nondescript color. That's really the best way."--M. Arcati.

M. J. Daniel Brensinger, Cocalico's Cecil B. DeMille.

BLITHE SPIRIT by Noel Coward concerns the inept attempts of Charles Condomine (Jay Althouse) to expose those who dabble in the occult for what they really are. Charles, his wife Ruth (Jane Fichthorn), and some friends become involved in a seance ably managed by one Madame Arcati (Roxann Showalter) and her invisible medium Daphne. Unfortunately things get out of hand. What initially promised to be a lighthearted romp turns into a near-catastrophe when the over-zealous seer produces the blithe spirit of Charles' dead wife Elvira (Peggy Care and Linda Swigart).

With two wives to contend with, Charles finds life increasingly unbearable. Matters are further complicated by Ruth's inability to see or hear the quick-witted Elvira; furthermore, the living wife is thoroughly convinced that her husband has reached the last outpost of sanity and will soon end up in the London Psychical Research Department's vegetable garden. When several vain attempts by Charles' erstwhile colleague in the mysterious arts lead nowhere, Elvira resolves the issue by unintentionally taking the life of the second Mrs. Condomine.

Before her body has a chance to cool, Ruth returns to the somewhat less than loving arms of her husband. Now faced with the possibility of spending the rest of his life with the spirit forms of both wives, Charles once again seeks assistance from Madame Arcati. In spite of her resemblance to the cackling weird sisters in MACBETH, the egotistical spiritualist conjures up all the "tricks of the trade" she can think of. The Madame's cloudy crystal ball informs her that a white bandage is an integral part in finding who summoned the wives back. When Edith (Glenda Swigart) appears with her head wrapped, Madame Arcati uses the befuddled maid to force the withdrawal of both the first and the second Mrs. Condomine. The scheme meets with partial success in that the wives are no longer visible.

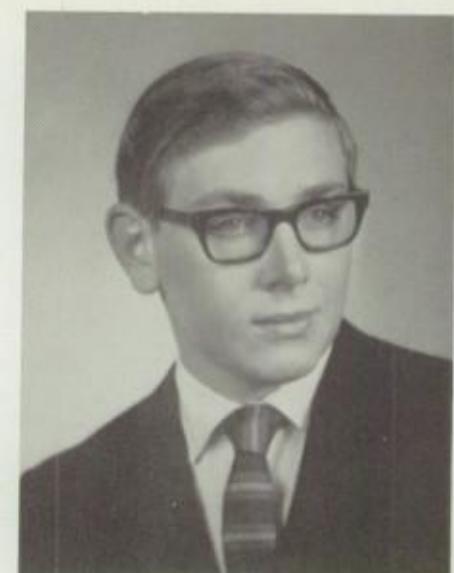

"Knowledge is a treasure, but practice is the key to it."

NEW CHALLENGES IN LIFE . . .

NEW HOLLAND

are waiting for you. Go after them. Show the world you have the staying power to achieve your highest ambitions.

New Holland believes you'll tackle your new goals with enthusiasm, keen judgment and mature responsibility.

We're proud of you, proud of your school, and proud of those who have worked with you in the classroom. We hope you're proud of yourselves. You should be, because you've cleared the first big hurdle.

Now, Class of 1969, prepare yourselves for the new and important challenges ahead.

Sue,
To a nice girl I met when my sister
use to take dancing
lessons at Ephrata.
Remember all the great fun at the Denver pool.
Keep your nice smile and great personality smile and surely will have success.
A. T. S. have success.

Jolynne

Remember all the fun
we had at summer "20", up at the Great one and only Ko-Ka-Lek-Ko Swim Pool.

Forget it

Tell you later

Brenda Cole

Susie,
To a nice girl and good cheerleader, always remember the fun we had. Remember the last pool dance at Ephrata when Andy did not feel good and your brother picked us up after the dance.
Stay as nice as you are and as smart as I used to have been. Never forget how Mike and I used to have fun. Maybe someday it will be like it was before. Good Luck and success in your future attempts. Good luck in writing but I was writing this in study hall.
Keep smiling and success will be yours.
A. F. A.

Lucy,
To a nice
girl of 72 THAT I GOT TO KNOW BETTER
at CARNIVAL AND TO A GREAT MIND THAT NEVER PAKTS. A.F.A
Elvin

Sue, so a friendly girl
I met in 7th grade.
Always remember our great cheering squad.
Keep that great smile
and best of luck with everything.

Sue,
To a great kid &
met way-back-when.
Good luck on Varsity hockey next year, and on all other attempts, and remember sometimes

Pam
a swell girl whom is first grade.
you

To a real swell of I've known since first of Keep the great personality you've always had and you'll never go wrong. Sorry that I couldn't think of anything different or amusing to write but if I should die, that would break you up to read remember the parties and the so on and out with the girl and a good character.

Hail,

Sue,
To a real nice girl I met in 7th grade. Keep up all your good work and school spirit. I wish the best of luck to you always. A.F.A.

Sue,
I am a girl & my girl who's grade was in seventh grade was in school I thought was she is also a girl who is basketball player
and she is basketball player
she is a great player. Her name is "A. F. R. Lewis".
Our teacher (Bull) is a very good teacher.

she
for a real great girl who sits in front of me all the time. Remember all the dorm rooms we were in.
I hope you're great cherishing

1) But I'm girl
to our new and cheerleader & we're from 10th grade and a bit before. Good luck Jim
